

1990 National Evaluation of the Weatherization Assistance Program: Survey Instruments

The 1990 evaluation of the Weatherization Assistance Program was performed through ten individual studies. Data were collected under the different studies from states, weatherization agencies, utilities, and occupants. The seven studies that used various survey instruments to collect this data are identified below:

ORNL/CON-324, Characterization of the Weatherization Assistance Program Network by Philip E. Mihlmester, Wallace C. Koehler, Jr., Mark A. Beyer, Marilyn A. Brown, and Darrell A. Beschen, Jr., February 1992.

- Characterization of the WAP Network: Grantee Questionnaire
- Characterization of the WAP Network: Subgrantee Questionnaire

ORNL/CON-325, Scope of the Weatherization Assistance Program: The Weatherized Population and the Resource Base by Meg Power, Joel F. Eisenberg, Eugene Michels, Marjorie J. Witherspoon, and Marilyn A. Brown, May 1992.

- The Scope of Full Scale Low Income Weatherization Programs: State Manager's Survey
- The Scope of Utility Low Income Weatherization Programs

ORNL/CON-326, National Impacts of the Weatherization Assistance Program in Single-Family and Small Multifamily Dwellings by Marilyn A. Brown, Linda G. Berry, Richard A. Balzer, and Ellen Faby, May 1993.

- Dwelling-Specific Form
- Agency Information Form
- Control Group Form (form is not available)

ORNL/CON-327, Impacts of the Weatherization Assistance Program in Fuel-Oil Heated Houses by William P. Levins and Mark P. Ternes, October 1994.

- Fuel-Oil Study Pre-Weatherization Data Collection Form
- Fuel-Oil Study House Characteristics Survey
- Blower-Door Test Data Sheet: Infiltec Blower Door
- Fuel-Oil Study Steady-State Efficiency Data Sheet
- Fuel-Oil Study System Safety Inspection Form
- Fuel-Oil Study Occupant Questionnaire: Weatherized Home
- Fuel-Oil Study Occupant Questionnaire: Control Home
- Fuel-Oil Study Weatherization Information Survey
- Fuel-Oil Study Control House Information Survey

ORNL/CON-329, Description of the Weatherization Assistance Program in Larger Multifamily Buildings for Program Year 1989 by J. M. MacDonald, April 1993.

- State Grantee Survey: High-Density Multifamily Units
- Building Specific Data Survey Form: High-Density Multifamily Units for Program Year 1989

ORNL/CON-331, Patterns of Impact in the Weatherization Assistance Program: A Closer Look by Linda G. Berry and Marilyn A. Brown, June 1994.

- Single-Family Study House Characteristics Survey
- Single-Family Study Occupant Questionnaire: Weatherized Home
- Single-Family Study Occupant Questionnaire: Control Home

ORNL/CON-379, Utility Investments in Low-Income Energy-Efficiency Programs by Marilyn A. Brown, Mark A. Beyer, Joel Eisenberg, Edward J. Lapsa, and Meg Power, September 1994.

- U.S. Department of Energy National Weatherization Evaluation

The three studies that did not use any survey instruments to collect data were:

ORNL/CON-328, Keys to Success: Ten Case Studies of Effective Weatherization Programs by Marilyn A. Brown, Linda G. Berry, Laurence F. Kinney, James O. Kolb, Thomas C. Wilson, and Dennis L. White, November 1993.

ORNL/CON-434, Five Case Studies of Multifamily Weatherization Programs by L. F. Kinney, T. Wilson, G. Lewis, and J. M. MacDonald, May 1997.

ORNL/SUB/92-SK904/V2, The Scope of the Weatherization Assistance Program: Profile of the Population in Need by Joel F. Eisenberg, Eugene Michels, David Carrol, and Nancy Berdux, March 1994.
